third floor attic

Come discover the Outside Room where scent and sound surround you. Monika has created an old-world, barefoot elegance on the third floor of 925 Royal. A sumptuous mix of texture and turf are united to create the potting centre for the adjoining deck. So often hallways are just that, places to pass through. But this space has been transformed into a functional environment, incorporating pieces that delight the senses and stand the test of time, inviting you to linger and admire.

Monika Siebert Kakoschke, a leading designer internationally, believes that total design – one that incorporates all senses – creates environments that become art to live in. A hallmark of Monika's interior designs is the inclusion of innovative materials for the home, office, and retail environments. MSK has been featured in House Beautiful, Canadian Living, Canadian House and Home, Chatelaine Renovations, and various other design publications. This year, 1998, celebrates a decade of the MSK studio, where designs embrace the refinement of interiors for restoration and construction.
